PREFACE

By authority of a Presidential letter, the Historical Records Survey of the Works Progress Administration was initiated as a nation-wide undertaking in January 1936, under the national direction of Luther H. Evans. The objective of the Survey is the preparation of inventories and other bibliographical guides which will make accessible to research workers the masses of unpublished official documents and other significant non-public historical materials which constitute a vast storehouse of information pertaining to all phases of American civilization.

These bibliographies are expected to serve as convenient handbooks for officials whose administrative duties require frequent examination of the records left by their predecessors, and as guides for writers, historians, and students seeking new and significant source materials.

The Church Archives Inventory is one of the important parts of the program of the Historical Records Survey. It became apparent in 1938 that the preparation of inventories of church archives in the District of Columbia would be expedited and simplified by the compilation of a directory of active churches and religious organizations which would serve as an accurate outline of the work to be done here.

The task was undertaken with the cooperation of clerical leaders, and others interested in a comprehensive listing of the religious establishment in Washington. It has been the major endeavor of the Church Archives section of the Survey during the past three months.

The completed directory brings together data fixing the identity and location of over nine hundred congregations, institutions, and organizations. It indicates the magnitude of religious work in Washington, the depth and breadth of popular interest and commitment, and by implication, some of the factors in the growth of new sects, cults, and independent congregations.

We do not assume, of course, that this listing is complete, and we shall feel that one of our objectives in publishing a directory has been achieved if we succeed in eliciting further information from both clergy and laity.

It is the nature of a directory to defy completion. However, this very transiency, which renders data obsolescent almost as soon as it is placed in type, paradoxically, gives it a permanent value in the field of future archival research. Aside from the Survey's own immediate and utilitarian objectives, and its desire to be of service to the community, it is this historical aspect of a directory which has moved us to seek for such comprehensiveness as we may have been able to attain.

In the listing of churches in the District of Columbia for directory purposes we have confined ourselves to an impartial recording of them as we have found them in the field, accepting the status and affiliation claimed by the responsible church officials. The framework of presentation is that of the United States Census of Religious Bodies. To this we have added those denominational movements which have developed during the years that have elapsed since the last published census of religious bodies in the United States, together with local organizations of sufficient importance to warrant their inclusion in a work designed to be of service to the general public.

In no sense anything but a preliminary edition, it is hoped that a revised edition of the directory may appear in printed form after completion and publication of the Survey's inventory of church archives.

Acknowledgment of our deep appreciation is hereby made to the many church officials who have given us their cooperation and assistance. We are especially indebted to the following for extending to us the facilities of their denominational organizations, or for their courtesy and consideration in meeting our requests for advice and information: The Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, Roman Catholic Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Baltimore; The Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Washington; The Very Rev. Edwin Holt Hughes, Methodist Episcopal Bishop of the Washington Area; Elder John W. MacNeil, President of the Potomac Conference, Seventh-day Adventists; The Very Rev. Msgr. Leo Binz, Secretary to the Apostolic Delegation of the Roman Catholic Church; The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Peter K. Guilday, Professor of American Church History, Catholic University; Rev. Freeley Rohrer, Stated Clerk of the Presbytery of Washington City; Rev. Rufus Weaver, Executive Secretary of the District of Columbia Baptist Convention; Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Canon of Washington Cathedral; the late Rabbi Abram Simon of the Washington Hebrew Congregation; Rev. William L. Darby, Executive Secretary of the Washington Federation of Churches; Rev. John L. Mixon, Director of the Department of Social Welfare, Washington Federation of Churches; Col. William R. Arnold, Chief of Chaplains, U. S. Army; Capt. Robert D. Workman, Chief of Chaplains, U. S. Navy; Rev. Ralph Loew, Secretary of the Lutheran Ministerial Association; Rev. Francis A. Mullin, Director of the Library, Catholic University; Rev. Ivan H. Dugan, President of the Disciples Ministers Meeting; Rev. Walter C. Hook, Ingram Memorial Congregational Church; Rabbi Solomon H. Metz, Adas Israel Synagogue; Rabbi Moshe H. Levinson, Beth Sholom Congregation; Mr. J. Austin Stone, Clerk of the Friends Meeting of Washington; Rev. Edgar A. Love, District Superintendent, Washington Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; Rev. Luther T. Hughes, President of the Baptist Ministers' Conference of the District of Columbia; Rev. Raymond W. White, Chairman, Washington District, Methodist Protestant Church; Rev. G. Ellis Williams, District Superintendent, Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and Miss Ethel A. L. Lacy, Curator, Washingtoniana Division, Public Library of the District of Columbia. Acknowledgment is also made of the foundation work done by Mrs. Leila M. Holt, who was formerly Supervisor of the project.

For the most important single contribution to our work, we are indebted to the Washington Federation of Churches, whose financial cooperation made it possible for us to assemble and bind this directory.

For the legal research we are indebted to Mr. Clarke B. Payne, attorney, a member of the supervisory staff of the project.

For the cover design we are indebted to Mr. Richard Kenah, Director of the Federal Art Project of the District of Columbia, and Mr. William Arthur Dintaman, the artist.

The work of collecting, verifying, and editing the information for publication in this directory has been done by a number of project workers under the direction of Mr. Henry B. Dillard, Supervisor of the Church Archives Inventory in the District of Columbia, and his editorial assistants, Mr. Clarence Brownfield, Mr. Clinton Coffin, and Mr. Edward James.

This directory was prepared in accordance with instructions from the Washington office of the Historical Records Survey; detailed editorial comments and criticism of the book have been made by Donald A. Thompson, Assistant Archivist in Charge of the Church Archives Inventory.

Information regarding churches and religious organizations not listed, and corrections in the material included herein, should be addressed to: Historical Records Survey, Washington, D. C.
